

CELESTINE ITUMBI NYAMU

Current Address:

1214 31st Street #1-G
Des Moines, IA 50311
Tel. (515) 271-3865 (O); (515) 271-9609 (H)
E-mail: cnyamu@hotmail.com

Permanent Address:

P.O. BOX 17219
Nairobi, Kenya

EDUCATION

HARVARD LAW SCHOOL, Cambridge, MA
Doctor of Juridical Science (S.J.D.) (Nov. 2000)
Master of Laws (LL.M.) June 1995

KENYA SCHOOL OF LAW, Nairobi, Kenya
Post-Graduate Diploma in Legal Practice, August 1994

UNIVERSITY OF NAIROBI, Kenya
Bachelor of Laws (LL.B. Honors), November 1993

EXPERIENCE

DRAKE LAW SCHOOL, Des Moines, IA
Visiting Assistant Professor, Spring 2001 (Public International Law)

UNIVERSITY OF PUERTO RICO SCHOOL OF LAW
Visiting Assistant Professor, Summer 2000 (Gender, Human Rights and Development)

HARVARD LAW SCHOOL

LL.M. Thesis Advisor, Graduate Program 1999-2000
Duties include teaching assistance for thesis writing workshop for LL.M. students, advising students on legal research and writing, reviewing students' drafts and facilitating small group discussions among students writing in the fields of family law, property law, law and culture, human rights, international law and development.

Workshop Instructor, Graduate Program 1997-98
Designed and conducted a fortnightly seminar on Gender, Culture and Development.

Senior Fellow, Graduate Program 1997-98
Duties included orientation for LL.M. students, advising on course selection and paper writing and career counseling.

Visiting Researcher, Graduate Program, 1995-96
Conducted independent research, reading and preparation for doctoral studies. Audited courses in law school, Kennedy School of Government and Anthropology Department.

Harvard Human Rights Journal 1994-96
Primary editor.

MAKUENI DISTRICT, Kenya

Field research June 1998 – February 1999
Conducted doctoral dissertation research on Gender, Culture & Property Relations in a Plural Legal Context. Interaction and extensive interviews with people at village level, archival research at Kenya National Archives and Makueni District Land Adjudication Office & land registry.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY

